

Shouldn't your moving company be more than just "a mover"?

Because you are making more than just “a move.”

Just as every family is different, so is every move. In the new community, your employee's family may need to locate certain special services.

No problem.

We want to make sure that all individual needs are met.

From elder care to health care...from employment searches to home searches...from baby sitting to pet sitting...we can provide assistance or referrals to make everyone's adjustment as smooth as possible.

After all, you're not just relocating possessions. You're relocating people, and you've entrusted us to help you.

We'll do all we can to see that their quality of life will be as good as – or better than – it ever was.

Just the thought of relocation brings untold questions to mind for your employees.

What's the best way to go about selling the house? Or finding a new one? What about the schools in the new city? Do they have a soccer program? Can good child care be found? Is there a synagogue? What about doctors?

Since 1904 – five generations ago in our family-owned company – Golden Van Lines has been helping families answer these and countless other questions.

We understand that yours is more than just a move. It is a crucial transition in the lives of some very important people.

So relax. We're on your team. And we're much more than just "a mover."

We specialize in precious cargo.

Your employee's possessions represent a lifetime of memories.

Some are fragile, like that curio cabinet filled with collectibles, or the antique sideboard full of china and stemware.

We think that every personal item we touch is precious and deserving of the utmost care. For your added security, we provide coverage against damage or loss, with affordable options for full value protection.

We take pride in the expertise of our seasoned moving teams, who possess all the skills that extensive training and years of experience can provide.

You'll notice that everything they do reflects a respect for your property...like using protective materials, special techniques, and extra precautions during packing, loading and unloading.

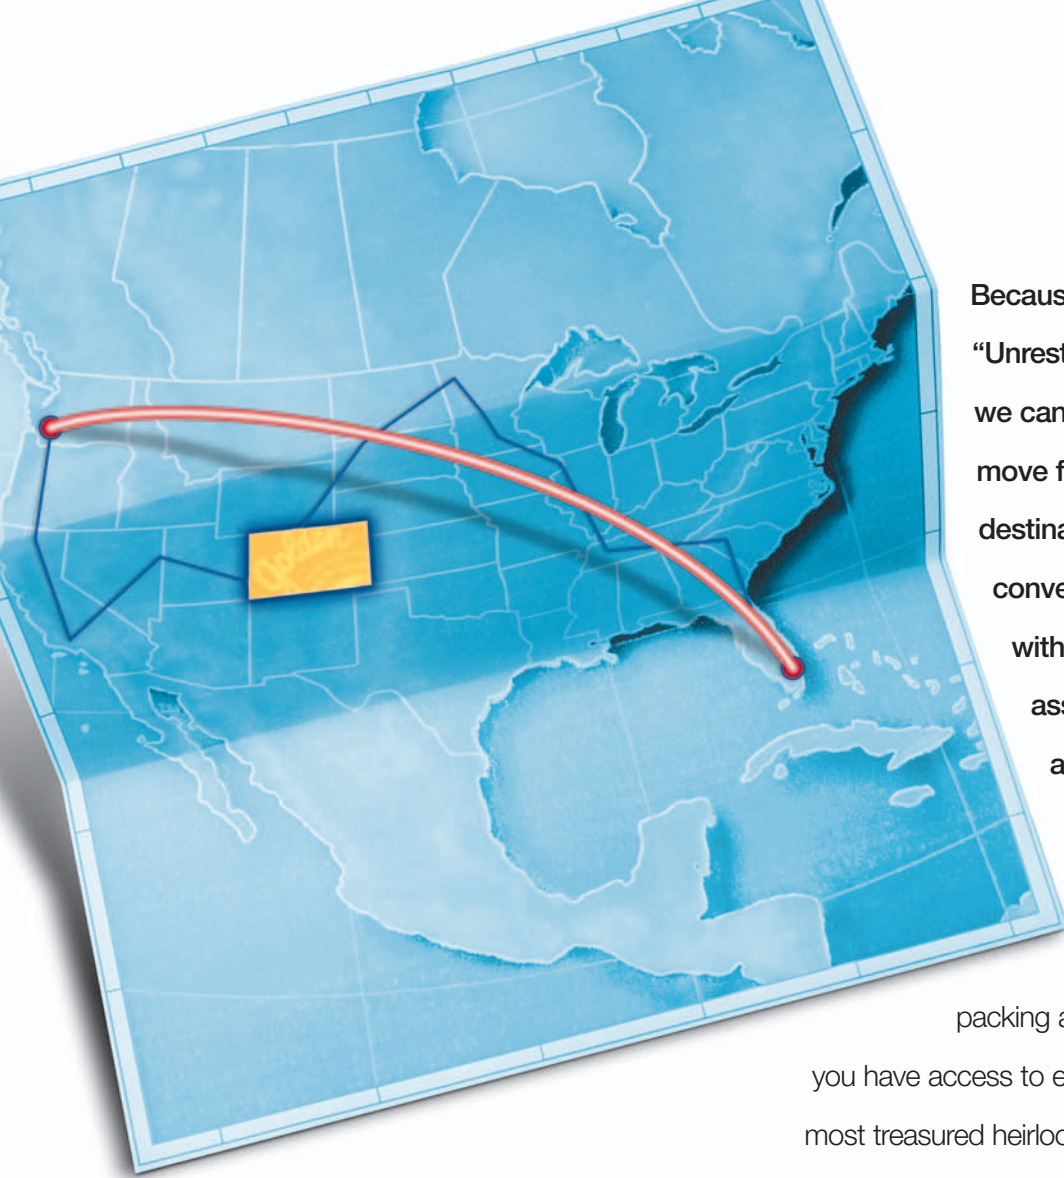

Change can be a scary thing.

But it doesn't have to be. That's why we stay in close touch with you and your transferee throughout relocation.

We're available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to answer questions or concerns.

Because we're more than a mover, we're prepared to deal with those little things that have a way of becoming big things. Like securing those airline tickets that were somehow overlooked during those hectic final days. Or maybe it turns out that the family mini-van or the sports car need to be transported after all. And perhaps the new home isn't quite ready for occupancy, so what exactly are your best options for comfortable – and reasonably priced – temporary housing and storage?

Because we have the “Unrestricted Right of Self-Haul,” we can manage all phases of a move from origin through destination. You get the convenience of communicating with a single agency and the assurance that your needs are understood completely, throughout the entire relocation process.

With our custom packing and crating capabilities, you have access to extra protection for your most treasured heirlooms, artwork and valuables.

We use as many as ten different kinds of materials to cushion and protect your belongings. And we routinely stretchwrap overstuffed furniture to keep it free from dirt and damage during transit.

From sporting goods to family keepsakes, from baby carriages to baby grand pianos, we bring considerate, careful experience to your move.

*As an agency for Atlas Van Lines, Golden has the “Unrestricted Right of Self-Haul.” This means that the Golden team you select can remain in complete control of transporting your possessions.
Surprisingly, many other van lines simply don’t allow this single point of contact and direct transit.*

Your passport to international relocation.

We maintain affiliations with world-class movers around the globe. This means we offer you the convenience of complete, door-to-door relocation services virtually anywhere in the world.

You get one agent with full responsibility, from origin to destination. You don't have to worry about language barriers, export or import documentation, customs, packing issues or insurance.

You also get the best available transportation routes – whether air, ground or sea – to meet your budget and your schedule. When you have a question, we can check the status of your shipment, 24 hours a day and seven days a week, anywhere in the world.

And our international capabilities extend not only to your household goods moves, but to relocating your business or office, exhibits, artwork or manufactured products.

We understand the critical nature of commercial relocation, especially the importance of meeting business deadlines.

There is no substitute for these specialized skills when managing high-value shipments.

How much office space does your business devote to document storage?

And how easy is it to access those files when you have to produce a particular record?

Golden Archives

In the face of rising lease costs and the ever-increasing need to bring efficiency to every facet of business, Golden Archives offers you cost-saving, performance-enhancing options.

This total-concept records management center features the ultimate in secure facility design, including around-the-clock electronic and video surveillance, temperature control, full fire suppression and reinforced concrete walls.

“Golden Archives is here to help you streamline your document management program, not take it away from you. We’ll design a solution that satisfies your particular requirements, not ours.”

Todd Winter
President & CEO

Every record container, including those with specific customer markings, are affixed with a Golden Archives bar code for precise computer inventory (including the Point-to-Point tracking system from O'Neil).

Add to these features an electronic storage and retrieval system that simplifies the process of organizing, keeping, retrieving and destructing documents in virtually all formats.

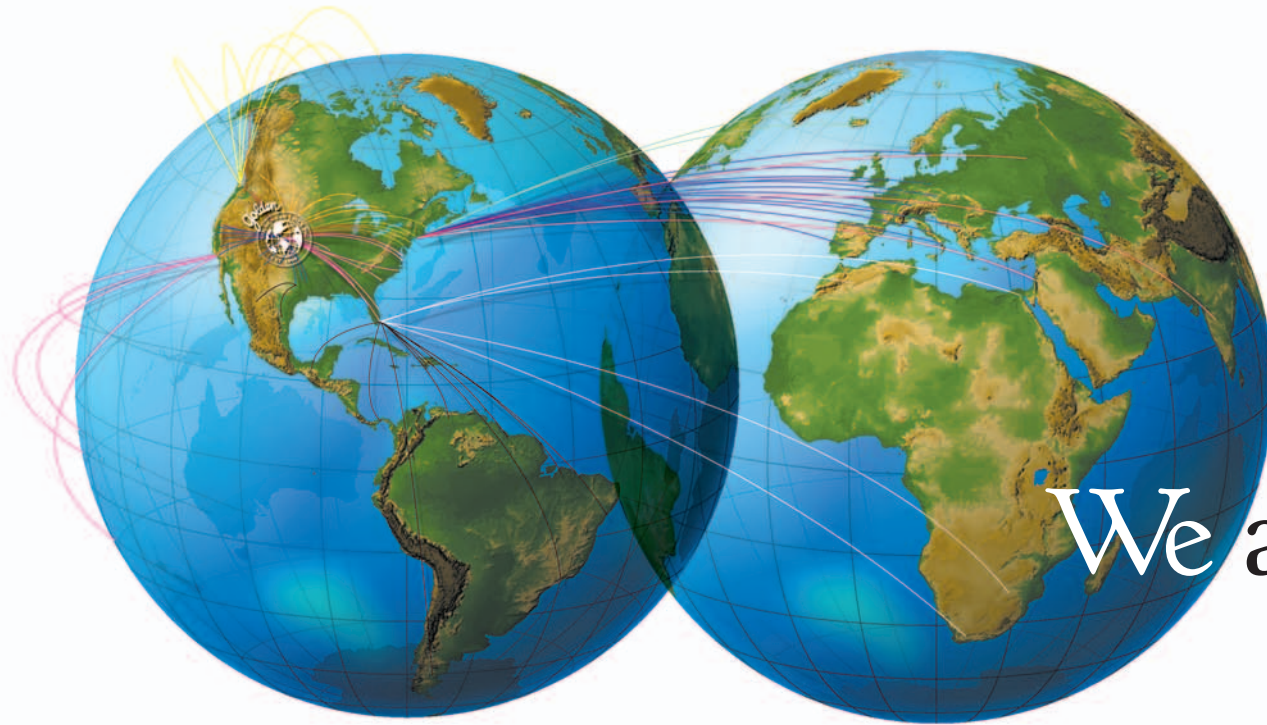

It's all designed to bring you the best in convenience, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

You even have the option of adding online access to your records through our web site, goldenarchives.com.

With Golden Archives helping you manage your document storage program, you can free up your valuable office space for more productive purposes. Let us show you how easy it is to do.

We are close to you.

Milton M. Hill Quality Award

As a multiple recipient of the Milton M. Hill Quality Award, Golden Van Lines is among an elite few (generally less than the top 5% of agents) who have earned the ultimate distinction of quality from Atlas Van Lines.

We are proud to have been recognized for exceptional performance in the areas of total customer satisfaction, estimating accuracy, claims and safety.

More than just "a mover."

When you need assistance based on an understanding of the many factors that affect relocation, Golden Van Lines offers you a proven choice.

From the moment a transfer is first considered until the time the relocated employee is securely settled, we know the process is much more than just "a move." Don't settle for just "a mover."
